*Our Christmas Cantata this year is a level of more advanced difficulty than usual and is very beautiful. We have enlisted more voices and we'll be ready to sing on Dec. 20.

*The wedding of Don and Teresa's daughter, Laura Katherine and Arnulfo was a charming multi-cultural event. They were wed in St. Ann's Catholic Church. The priest had a very warm and inclusive manner, since much of the ceremony was in English and Spanish. Laura was a beautiful bride. Her mom and dad also very FINE! The dinner reception was a fun affair. Music and dancing ruled the evening. Don's featured slow dance with Laura was highlighted with an impromptu interlude of "PUT ME IN COACH!" accompanied by a ball and ball gloves for a pitching routine between Dad and daughter, reminiscent of the growing up years. That was a sweet surprise for Don. Was there anyone that Teresa Holt didn't dance with at the wedding reception? The beautiful wedding music of our two church musicians, Teresa and Mike on violin was very beautiful.

*Does the tooth fairy still come to pick up teeth? Ask Landon Johnson who lost one of his front teeth last week.

*We know how multi-talented Deirdre Jersey and here is one way she gets it all done. Ira helped her prepare the fabric for the gift bags the church is making by ironing/pressing the fabric for her. Mouse taught her sons to iron!

*Jayce Stephenson's birthday gift to his grandmother was to come to worship and bring three college buddies. SHE WAS GRATEFUL.

* Teresa Holt is an ACE at finding interesting part time work that allows her to be flexible, play for us here at church and meet lots of people. Recently she has been working for Event Specialists demonstrating coffee machines at William Sonoma. That sounds good to me.

* Susan Foster and Stephanye Sanderson are giving their Fitbits good workouts, walking the farm paths during these beautiful crisp fall days.

*Stephanye WAS planning to retire from Rex Hospital Birth Center OR on Dec. 1, and have lots more time for those activities, BUT she got a call from the boss, asking (begging) her to stay at least 6 months longer. She said yes! Her mother was bummed over that.

* Both of Stephanye and John's daughters are buying houses. Anna bought a townhouse/condo off Six Forks in Raleigh. She and Dad (and mom) are doing bits of face-lifting, before she moves in. Amomma will be visiting to eat in some of those wonderful North Hills restaurants. Ashley and her roommate, Tom, are closing on a house in Austin, TX next week. They will have a guest room. Mouse has never been to Austin. *

* Randy Stephenson, Linda's brother, who lives in Atlanta, is researching his grandfather's life and times, here in Johnston County. He is home the week before Thanksgiving, spending much time in the Jo. Co. Library. Linda and others in the family look forward to Randy's visits. In retirement he teaches English as a Second Language for Adults for a community college.

*Mouse read in FB that Duane and Medora's daughter and family are moving to the Raleigh area. Emmie will work for St. Giles Presbyterian Church. It will be wonderful to have the two granddaughters close to grandparents.

MEN'S FELLOWSHIP BREAKFAST

Monthly gathering re-implemented

Be on your guard; stand firm in the faith; be men of courage; be strong. Do everything in love. I Corinthians 16:13-14

The WMPC Men's fellowship breakfast teams have reorganized after a long hiatus. We have already met with good participation in October and November. The planned future schedule is to meet the second Sunday of each month at 8:00 a.m. at the fellowship hall. Any deviation from the schedule, for special events or other changes, will be announced ahead of time.

There will be a hearty, delicious breakfast and an informal, "meaningful to men" devotion by Henry Coates. The monthly breakfast team will purchase the estimated breakfast foods to prepare and serve. A voluntary monetary donation will be collected at the breakfast and placed in the weekly church offerings for bank deposit. The team leader may request a reimbursement (with voucher) like any other church expense.

The next breakfast will be Sunday December 13th (at 8:00 a.m.) with Lee Talton's team cooking the meal. Other team members are Robin and Rush Grimes and Eric Hammond.

Future teams and team members will be finalized and announced along with a monthly schedule. All community men, those associated with WMPC, guests, and any others, are invited and encouraged to attend the monthly breakfast.

Journey Back to Bethlehem

BRINGING THE CRECHE TO LIFE

The Day Before the First Sunday in Advent

And they came with haste, and found Mary, and and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger. Luke 2:16

The creche. One night before Christmas I stood outside a church and watched a living nativity. Beside a makeshift stable, a shepherd in a bathrobe gazed at the sky. On the other side stood three figures in aluminum foil crowns. Inside, Joseph knelt beside Mary, who was holding a small bundle in her arms. A doll, I supposed. But suddenly a small cry drifted up into the night. It was a real baby!

Somehow in that moment I found myself in "Bethlehem," seeing the story with new eyes and a new heart. A real baby that night, I thought. One that cried and was comforted by real parents. One that was visited by real shepherds and real Wise Men. For the first time, the reality of Christmas came to me through a creche.

According to tradition, St. Francis instituted the custom of the creche in 1223 in the little Italian village of Greccio. To the awe of the townspeople, he re-created the nativity by placing a live child in a manger and leading an ox and donkey to the scene. By the sixteenth century, creche figurins adorned churches and homes all over Italy and Bavaria.

Even the King of Naples modeled his own clay figures. Eventually the custom of the creche spread around the world. Today we see nativities everywhere: in churches and department stores, under trees and atop roofs, on wrapping paper and Christmas cards. It has become so familiar we hardly see it. But this year I hope to discover the creche anew, like that night I heard the Christ Child cry.

Surviving the Holiday Season

Taking care of yourself is very important during the holiday season, especially when you are grieving the loss of someone special. You may have many grief feelings and reactions that feel intensified during the holidays, and taking care of yourself helps you to cope with these strong feelings. Taking care of yourself involves care on many levels: emotionally, physically, spiritually, socially, and as a family.

What will you do to take care of yourself and your family this season? Talk about it with your family. Place a checkmark beside the items below that will help you "survive" and cope with this holiday season.

- Sleep in, get some rest
- Ask for help from friends, family, neighbors—tell people what you need
- Cry
- Say "no" to:
- Find ways to incorporate your loved one into your holiday plans/gatherings (Ex: hang up a special ornament, fill their stocking with notes or meaningful objects, leave an empty place at the table, discuss how your loved one showed the principles of Kwanzaa, etc.)
- Have moments of quiet in memory of your loved one
- Volunteer your time to help others in need
- Exercise
- Talk about your grief with someone you trust
- Avoid overindulgence with food and (and for adults, alcohol)
- Take a hot bath or shower
- Read an uplifting book
- Get away on a day trip or small vacation; or, if this isn't possible, go out to eat or to a park for the day
- Find small pleasures: a sunset, a loved one's smile, a warm cup of hot chocolate, your pet
- Develop and remind yourself of a centering thought (Ex: I am not alone, I will make it through, I am loved, etc.)
- Find ways to do things together as a family: game night, watch a movie, take a walk, make cookies
- Pray, go to a spiritual sanctuary, meditate, recite a blessing
- Every day, name three things that you feel grateful for from that day
- (your own)
- (your own)

THE SECRET BEHIND THE SONG

People often think of the Twelve Days of Christmas as the days preceding the festival. Actually, Christmas is a season of the Christian Year that last for days beginning December 25 and lasting until January 6 – the Day of Epiphany – when the church celebrates the revelation of Christ as the light of the world and recalls the journey of the Magi. From 1558 until 1829 people in England were not allowed to practice their faith openly. During this era someone wrote “The Twelve Days of Christmas” as a kind of secret catechism that could be sung in public without risk of persecution. The song has two levels of interpretation:

“The surface meaning plus a hidden meaning known only to members of the church.”

Each element in the carol is a code word for a religious reality.

1. The partridge in a pear tree is Jesus Christ.
2. The two turtledoves are the Old and New Testaments.
3. Three French hens stand for faith, hope, and love.
4. The four calling birds are the four Gospels.
5. The five gold rings recall the torah (Law) the first five books of the old Testament.
6. The six geese a-laying stand for the six days of creation.
7. Seven swans a-swimming represent the sevenfold gifts of the Spirit.
8. The eight maids a milking are the eight beatitudes.
9. Nine ladies dancing are the nine fruits of the spirit (Gal.5).
10. The ten lords a-leaping are the Ten Commandments.
11. Eleven pipers piping stand for eleven faithful disciples.
12. Twelve drummers drumming symbolize the 12 points of belief in the Apostles Creed.

There you have it. The HIDDEN meaning of the “The Twelve Days of Christmas” and the secret behind the song.
